WAR NEWS.

The news is light. The Senate will probably adjourn this week. Its list of confirmations is nearly ended. Nothing new from the various theatres of War, but the best of proofs of the improved health of our armies and their readiness to fall to work.

We scarcely trust the rumor from Memphis of a fight on the Yazoo, and it will do our readers no harm to discredit it until confirmed. It is certain, however, from the great preparations for wounded at Memphis that the crisis is at hand.

The rebels have retired before General Granger's advance of Gen. Rosecrans to their line of defence—the south bank of Duck River, a stream which runs through Middle Tennessee, about forty miles below Nashville, in a direction east and west, and becomes a tributary to the Tennessee River.

The news from Nashville and below is varied and interesting, and unusually full in details from the far South. If the rebel journals do not adhere more scrupulously to facts, in giving home news, than they do in dealing with matters this side our lines, the summary of Southern news in our dispatches will be of small value. But, in important points, it is elsewhere, and from other channels, confirmed.

NOBLE INDIANA.

Our cows from Indianapolis gives noble proof that Gov. Morton may rely upon the Union men of Indiana for disappointing the malice of the infamous Copperheads. They basely made it the condition for granting the appropriations, the fastening upon Indiana the open stigma of disloyalty. She is spared that shame. Hoosier women would melt their teaspoons to pay the expenses of the State for the next two years, rather than consent to yield to Copperhead pledges. Her noble Executive officer will find the wealth of Indiana pledged to sustain her credit if necessary. Other counties will numerously follow the example of Marion in taking up their share of the burden, and all would rather lose every dollar advanced than see the late infamous Legislature reconstructed.

THE MACEDONIAN CRY.

History will scarcely forgive this Government, if longer the progress of the war, the eloquent if mute appeals that come to us from beyond the enemy's lines are disregarded, and the noble loyal men of the South be left without succor to perish before the hellish hate of the enemies of the Union. The Macedonian cry, "come over and help us," rang wailing over the mountains from East Tennessee months ago, where loyalists in their sufferings and devotedness, looked long and vainly for the coming of our arms to their relief.

The Union men of the Gulf States we have heard from before now, and always in such connection as unmistakably to enforce their fealty and declare their extremity of suffering. But lately we heard that bloodhounds bayed them to their forest retreats. The tale of their tortures has come in with hundreds of trembling fugitives to our lines in Northern Mississippi. Disciplined cowardice from the mountain districts of Alabama, bear the same burden, but the phase is different in one. The Unionists have banded themselves together, and have drawn daring to their own behalf. Throughout the upper portions of all the Cotton States, in the very sections where the curse of Slavery is the lightest, these men are beginning to make manifestations that are attracting the attention of the rebel authorities themselves. There can be only one result if they be not succored they will be exterminated. Let us push on the war, and in strengthening these Union men of the South, crush their enemy and ours. It may be done before mid-summer.

THE RESULT IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The footings of the election in New Hampshire, on Tuesday last, declare the following results. There is no election of Governor by the people. The Democratic candidate, Ira A. Eastman lacks 800 votes of such election. Of the Governor's Council of Five, elected annually, the Republicans have three and the Democrats two, instead of all Republicans last year. Of the Congressmen, Daniel Marcy, Democrat, defeats Eastman in the 1st District. In the other two districts Rollins and Patterson, sound Republicans, are elected. Copperheads who read these returns until the reaction in favor of their infamous complicity with treason, and loyal men will perhaps wonder at first at the seeming retrograde of sentiment in the Granite State, where last year the Republican majority was a clear 8,000, and Lincoln's majority was more than nine thousand.

But look at this fact. Since the election of 1860, over six thousand sons of New Hampshire have gone to war. These were loyal men, and certainly few of them, comparatively, could have been drawn from the support of a party headed by Isaac Pierce, the boom friend of Jeff. Davis, the New Hampshire Copperheads long ago, came out boldly to dissuade men from enlistment. Since the Presidential election the stalwart Democratic men have gone to the war from among the White hills. And these have weakened the voting power of the party of the Union at home. Now, in this light, look again at the result on Tuesday, and pay the tribute of admiration to the brave sentinels of the Union men of New Hampshire in filling up the gaps. With the soldiers at home again on that day, the Copperheads would have been buried out right. Without them the voters, in solid rank, set the seal of repudiation on northern sorghum. The Republican Legislature will elect a Republican Governor. The solitary Copperhead representative in Congress will become like a hawk nailed to the barn door. The Granite State has kept step to the music of the Union.

The Purchase and Sale of Coin.

The following regulations contain the substance of the recent act of Congress in relation to the purchase and sale of gold and silver:

First—All contracts for the purchase and sale of gold and silver coin, or bullion, and all contracts for the loan of money or currency secured by the pledge of gold or silver coin or bullion, or of gold or silver coin of the United States, if to be performed after a period of two days, shall be in writing.

Second—All such contracts made for the purchase or sale of gold or silver coin, or bullion, in addition thereto, cleanse equal to the amount of the contract for the time specified.

Third—A renewal of the contract would be subject to the same conditions.

Fourth—Every contract for the sale or pledging of gold or silver coin, or for the purchase of gold or silver coin, or of any certificate or evidence of right payable in gold or silver coin, or for the loan of money secured by the purchase or the pledging of gold or silver coin, shall be void, and no money due or to become due thereon shall be recovered by any suit, action or proceeding in any court, if at the time of the making of such contract the purchaser of the gold or silver coin, or the person to whom the money is loaned, or the person who pledges gold or silver coin to secure a loan of money, shall not be the owner of the coin purchased, or of the coin pledged, or of other coin of equal amount.

Fifth—Every contract for the purchase or sale of gold or silver coin, or bullion, or for the loan of money secured by the pledge of gold or silver coin, or bullion, shall be void, and no money due or to become due thereon shall be recovered by any suit, action or proceeding in any court, if at the time of the making of such contract the purchaser of the gold or silver coin, or the person to whom the money is loaned, or the person who pledges gold or silver coin to secure a loan of money, shall not be the owner of the coin purchased, or of the coin pledged, or of other coin of equal amount.

Sixth—Every person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Seventh—This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption—is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure.

To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge), with the directions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a SURE CURE for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Throat and Lung Affections. The only object of the advertiser in sending the prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable; and he hopes every sufferer will try it, confident that it will prove a blessing, as it has in every case where it has been given.

Parties wishing the prescription will please address REV. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings Co., N. Y.

TERRIBLE TRAGEDY ON COLUMBUS.

A Brother-in-law Murders His Sister-in-Law in a Fit of Insanity—Mortally Wounds Three Persons, and is Himself Killed.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.]

COLUMBUS, KY., March 9, 1863.

A terribly tragic affair occurred here about five o'clock this morning at the Columbus House. A man by the name of Rodgers, who was elected a member of Congress from the Memphis district, but on account of disloyalty was refused a seat, in a sudden fit of insanity, as is supposed, commenced an attack upon Lieutenant while in his bed. The landlord, hearing the disturbance, rushed in, when Rodgers attacked him with a knife, stabbing him in a terrible manner. The landlord's wife, hearing her husband's cries for help, came running in, and was immediately attacked by the madman, and gashed in a manner which renders her recovery impossible. During the affray, the Lieutenant received a pistol shot, which it is feared will prove mortal. The guard here rushed in and fired upon the unfortunate man, who attempted his work of murder upon them. He finally fell dead, being shot with five bullets, and run through with two bayonets. The landlord, his wife, and the Lieutenant are now lying at the point of death, the two former, it is thought, cannot survive the night. In any other place than Columbus, this would create a sensation, but here it is already an old story.

The Military Railroad from this place to Cordish is abandoned for the present. Mc.

FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1862.

A DEMONSTRATIVE TRAITOR.

We print, to-day, an article from the Chicago Post, which regarded, as it truly may be, as an index of the feeling of a large body of the citizens of this city, and a declaration of war upon the Copperheads of the Chicago Times school, is of great significance. As Republicans it is distasteful to us in many particulars; but, as loyal and patriotic supporters of the Government in its efforts to put down the rebellion, it is gratifying in so far as it affords evidence that the most respectable portion of the Democratic party will not be accomplices in the attempt that the Vallandighams, the Voorhees, and men of that kidney intend. We commend it to our readers as a part of the history of the times eminently worthy of their attention.

In the progress of the agitation against the infamous teachings of the Copperhead school, these evidences of the determination of the Democratic party to rid itself of the political tricksters who would prostitute it to the base uses and purposes of treason, are not now-a-days infrequent. They crop out everywhere, in the editorial columns of the public journals, the speeches of leading public men, in the resolutions of popular assemblages, and in the improved talk that we every day hear on the street. We believe that the point of danger has been passed, and that the conviction that, whatever may be the partisan opinions in regard to the rightfulness and necessity of the acts of the Administration, the present must, as the representative of the authority of the Republic, be heartily sustained. That conviction is the only one upon which loyal men in these times can act, and we are heartily glad to see its results.

THE WEST AND NEW YORK.

We hardly know what to think of the New York Legislature. In face of the remonstrances of the West against the longer continuation of the present commercial system that New York has adopted; in face of the fact that Illinois and the surrounding States have inaugurated, are pursuing and are determined to carry out, with the aid of the Provincial Government on our Northern border, a plan that will release us of the West from the commercial dominion of the Empire State; and in face too of the heightened political dissatisfaction consequent upon the trade disabilities that the West, by the greed of New York, has been compelled to suffer, the Legislature of that State seems determined to strengthen and perpetuate all our causes of complaint, and by its consummate folly, give discontent here another and a stronger reason for pursuing its purposes to their logical end. The crying need of the West is cheap and quick communication with tide-water and a market. She demands of New York, in the name of her suffering farmers, new, better and cheaper facilities through the territory of that State—a reduction of her canal tolls and enlarged and improved channels of communication; and these are necessary to her life. Without them, she must die of inanition. She hoped to find them in the execution of the plan for the national enlargement of her canal simultaneously with the enlargement of our own; but the dog-in-the-manger policy that Pennsylvania pursued, defeated her expectations; and now she meets in the lobby at Albany a powerful, lying and deceiving influence, likely to prevail in the Legislature, that demands the continuance of the old system, in the proposal to spend additional millions in the duplication of the locks between Rochester and Syracuse—their duplication on the old, not enlargement on the new plan demanded by the ever increasing trade of the country for which we speak. We do not thank New York for such a tender. We see in it only a justification and a promise of the perpetuation of the robbery that our merchants and farmers have endured. The improvement, though costly, and though held up as an earnest of good intentions, will do us no good. Unless not only these particular locks, but all others on the Erie Canal, are so widened, lengthened and deepened that boats two hundred feet in length and of twenty-five feet beam, can pass through, they had better be suffered to remain as they are. We do not expect, do not ask, that the enlargement be effected at once; but we ask, in the legislation that New York may enter upon, some assurance that our wants are heeded, that our demands are heard, and that she is willing to do us justice in the future, upon condition that we forget the past. If she is in earnest, she will, as fast as she can, give us the increased facilities that we need, and when the orders an improvement, order it upon a plan that will prove that she is animated by a desire for the good of the whole, not by that meanness and cupidity that now compels the West to seek at the hands of foreigners the fair treatment that is denied her by the city and State that her industry and enterprise have enriched.

We see in the spirit that controls the Legislature of New York, new reasons for pushing to a successful issue the plan of relief that Illinois has adopted. The deputation from our State to Canada is ready to start out. It will be occupied in whatever is patriotic and laudable in delegations from nearly all the Northwestern States. They are all assured of a friendly, nay a cordial reception; and we have no reasonable doubt that the object of their mission will be accomplished, and that, as soon as Spring fairly opens, we shall hear that thousands of men are at work upon the channels that will give us an outlet to the ocean and the markets of Europe free. That is the result for which all of the West should labor.

KILLED AGAIN.

The stir recently made in Washington and New York, in relation to the management of the Custom House in the latter city, was the work of Mr. Congressman Van Wyck, who, it now appears, was actuated solely by motives that do not commend themselves. A letter to the New York Mirror, first written by William Allen Butler, placed the whole matter in its true light, and exposed Mr. Barney, the Collector, and puts a hand on Mr. Van Wyck that he will not soon get rid of. Mr. Butler says:

Mr. Van Wyck wanted places in the Custom House for some of his constituents. He asked Mr. Barney to make appointments. To appoint a new man, Mr. Barney had to remove an incumbent. Van Wyck called and dictated to Mr. Barney the names of the men of the statement was made at the time to Mr. Barney, and in Van Wyck's presence. Afterwards Mr. Barney said to me:

"C. O. Whitlock should be removed, and Payson Hall appointed in his place."

C. H. VAN WYCK.

After this he wrote again as follows:

WASHINGTON, March, 1861.

"I wrote you not long since that C. O. Whitlock should be removed. Whitlock's friends are somewhat of a mind, and I have no doubt can if Wanser. C. H. V. W."

Whitlock was removed on this. He was the first victim of his removal, and heard that his own Representative in Congress had effected it by a change of politics. He wrote to Mr. Barney, and Van Wyck replied as follows:

"WASHINGTON, January 13, 1862.

"To C. WHITLOCK, Esq.: Nothing could surprise me more than the statement in your letter of the day received, that you were removed from the Custom House at my suggestion, because you were a secessionist. It never was my intention to remove you, and I never believed you were. I have always considered you a true and loyal man, and I never said you were not. I never said you were a secessionist, and I never believed you were. I never said you were not, and I never believed you were not. I never said you were not, and I never believed you were not. I never said you were not, and I never believed you were not

THE NEWS.

The news continues light. A [illegible] picketing begins to attach to the [illegible] Vicksburg the result [illegible] picks up operations a little to [illegible] Little is spoken of as only flight, [illegible] and continue to be pushed [illegible] From our friend and the [illegible] Kentucky and Tennessee, we [illegible] added to previous reports.

The next item from Washington [illegible] pending in the House, [illegible] possible the Senate will quickly [illegible] constitution fitted at in the [illegible] Brigham himself is made [illegible] polygamy.

THE FRENCH IN MEXICO.

The latest bad news [illegible] The rebels had [illegible] the movement on Puebla. [illegible] The prospects of the [illegible] exceedingly bad. They [illegible] plot. From the country, [illegible] from week to week by [illegible] village of them. The Mexicans [illegible] are ever on the alert, and [illegible] French soldier they catch [illegible] in camp.

Private letters communicated [illegible] privately, out of, by Mexicans [illegible] and can only be considered [illegible] French guards posted at [illegible] In this way the guerrillas, [illegible] are evidently in the pay of [illegible] are evident over success [illegible] ed. With from eighty to one [illegible] thousand men in the field, [illegible] the object of the Mexicans [illegible] the French is made dangerously [illegible] be little.

[illegible]

We endorse the suggested [illegible] of our loyalized officers. [illegible] ranked honorably in the [illegible] Chase, but Meredith to be the [illegible] Lowe. They bear about [illegible] kable proofs of eminent fitness. [illegible] Where loyalty is the first [illegible] They would never have gone [illegible] to be damned incomparably [illegible] penitentiary and disbarring [illegible] fact that disloyal officers [illegible] crime have been, the men [illegible] years in the [illegible] Kentucky who tried to do their duty [illegible] of danger, and their loyal record [illegible] pride right sharply the shirks and [illegible] who deny the service they [illegible] no other claims they retain [illegible] you? the fact of infamous [illegible] [illegible] the veterans of the war of [illegible]
